Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 29 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain spreading northeast today, clearing later.

Today:
An area of rain will move northeast across most parts of Scotland, becoming heavy for a time. Drier and brighter across the Hebrides and becoming drier in the southwest later in the afternoon.

Tonight:
Rain will clear away northeast followed by clear spells. It will become quite chilly in the glens. Another area of rain will spread north later in the night.

Saturday:
Rain will clear north followed by bright spells and scattered showers. The showers will die out later to leave a dry and chilly evening with clear spells.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Another band of heavy rain will move northeast on Sunday with gusty winds. Showers or longer spells of rain on Monday and Tuesday and turning somewhat colder.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.